DETAILED ACTION

This Office action is in response to the communications filed 9-15-03.

Claims 1-18 are pending in the instant application.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claim 10 drawn to an invention nonelected (SEQ ID NOS. 37,38,40 and 42) with traverse in Paper No. 9. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancelation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

The declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed 9-15-03 is insufficient to overcome the rejection of claims 1-18 based upon a lack of enablement over the broad claimed as set forth in the last Office action for the reasons cited below in addressing Applicants' arguments.

Response to Arguments and Amendments

Withdrawn Rejections

Any rejections not repeated in this Office action are hereby withdrawn.

Maintained Rejections

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for the reasons of record set forth in the Office action mailed 3-10-03, because the specification, while being enabling for a method of treating an atopic condition in a subject comprising the mucosal or intraperitoneal administration of CpG containing oligonucleotide comprising SEQ ID No: 10 (a.k.a. CpG-ODN 1826), does not reasonably provide enablement for the ability to treat an atopic condition in an organism comprising the administration of any CpG containing oligonucleotide.

Applicant's arguments and declaration filed 9-15-03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants have provided examples in both the declaration and accompanying publications (e.g. The Laryngoscope, Vol. 112, pages 1819-1826, October, 2002), as well as in the instant specification that teach the treatment of atopic conditions by various modes of administration of SEQ ID NO: 10 in an appropriate mouse model. Examples of increases in IL-4, IL-6, IL-12 and gamma interferon and a reduction of eosinophils have also been provided following administration, via various modes, of SEQ ID NOS: 7, 8, 10 and 11 either in vitro or in an appropriate mouse model. Applicants argue that atopic conditions encompass a relatively discrete set of disorders and are believed to share a common IgE mediated mechanism or pathogenesis and, according to Applicants, the relatively narrow scope claimed is enabled by the examples provided for the treatment of atopic conditions comprising the administration of any CpG containing oligonucleotide, via any mode of administration. Contrary to Applicants' assertions, the examples provided of the induction of various interleukins in spleen, liver or thymus cells are not representative of the successful treatment of any atopic condition using any CpG containing oligonucleotide. The scope drawn to treating an atopic condition comprising the mucosal or systemic administration of SEQ ID NO: 10 is enabled by the instant disclosure. But this is not necessarily representative of the broader scope, comprising the administration of any CpG containing oligonucleotide. An assumed common mechanism of action does not ensure enablement for treatment. Effective delivery to appropriate and concentration of a particular CpG containing oligonucleotide necessary for providing treatment effects for a particular CpG containing sequence are still highly unpredictable. SEQ ID No: 10 contains 2 traditional CpG motifs, each of the CpG dinucleotides are flanked 5' by two purines and flanked 3' by two pyrimidines. The success of treating atopic conditions with SEQ ID NO: 10 is not necessarily representative or correlative of the ability to successfully treat any atopic condition with the generic sequences claimed. The in vivo treatment success for these generic sequences require undue experimentation beyond that provided in the instant disclosure. Therefore, the instant scope of enablement rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
